

UNIVERSITÄT MANNHEIM

The Department of Media and Communication Studies in the School of the Humanities at the University of Mannheim invites applications for a tenured position at Full Professor level (W3 Professor).

The successful candidate will represent the field of media and communication studies in its full complexity and contribute to the interdisciplinary development of the subject. An emphasis on the social sciences would be an advantage.

An interdisciplinary masters program with a focus on management and practical skills (Communication Management in Business and Society) is to be developed. It will follow on upon a bachelor program in media studies, which was implemented in the winter semester of 2004/2005. The successful candidate will be involved in the conceptual design of the program.

Applications with a curriculum vitae, copies of diplomas for degrees obtained, a list of publications and of courses taught should be sent by March 31, 2006 to: Dekan der Philosophischen Fakultät, Universität Mannheim, Schloss, 68131 Mannheim, Germany.